Sensé—one of the best-kept secrets in the beauty industry—recently participated in Melanie Segal's Pre-Oscar Gift Lounge. The two-day, star-studded event (February 19-20, 2009) was filled with celebrities and national media.

All of the attendees were introduced to Sensé's exclusive and patented self-preserving technology and were able to walk away with a travel kit that included all 14 of the Sensé skin and body products for them to try.

From the Huffington Post:

"Sensé skincare was on hand to take a cross polarized photo of the face to reveal your skin's surface pigmentation, sun damage and other signs of aging. To help diminish whatever results the photo revealed, guests received a sleek travel bag with no less than 15 of the company's products."

They are known for their anti aging, revitalization of the skin and the superior nutrition fused in each product. They were on site handing out big, hip, silver bags, perfect for the Hollywood traveler. Love the bag!"
