

USANA Honored With Best of State Statue and Two Medals

SALT LAKE CITY—June 2, 2008—USANA Health Sciences, Inc. (NASDAQ: USNA), was recognized Saturday at the Best of State Awards ceremony with medals for the best dietary supplements and best personal-care products in Utah. USANA also received the prestigious Best of State statue in its overall category of merchandising and consumer services.

The 2008 Best of State Awards marks the fifth year that USANA has won a Best of State medal for its science-based nutritional products and the second year it has won for its Sensé™ skin-care line. USANA was one of only 10 organizations or individuals to receive a Best of State statue. It was selected from the largest category, which included medal winners in everything from health products to home decor.

“We are grateful to be recognized once again as a leader within the nutritional supplement and skin-care industries. And, it was especially exciting this year to win the Best of State Statue for the broader merchandising and consumer services category,” said USANA President Dave Wentz. “Independent recognition like the Best of State Awards means a lot to our dedicated corporate staff as well as our thousands of independent distributors worldwide.”

The Best of State Awards were created in 2003 to recognize outstanding individuals, organizations and businesses in Utah. Best of State candidates are evaluated by a panel of 100 judges based on three criteria: achievement in the field of endeavor; innovation or creativity in approaches, techniques, methods or processes; and contribution to improving the quality of life in Utah.
